CALL FOR PAPERS

Decay, Dissolution, Destruction

Decay, dissolution, and destruction are evident throughout the natural world, but they are also found in the social, political, and aesthetic domains of human experience. While these themes are often thought to be ominous and foreboding, they are essential for all creation and life. As Nietzsche well knew: "for a temple to be erected, a temple must be destroyed." This year's HOPS conference seeks to explore the different dimensions of breakdown and loss as they appear throughout the history of philosophy and the many ways in which they haunt and enrich our lives.

KEYNOTE SPEAKERS

Marjolein Oele (University of San Francisco)
Robert Metcalf (University of Colorado Denver)

THE HISTORY OF PHILOSOPHY SOCIETY was established to support and encourage scholarship on the history of philosophy from diverse perspectives. We welcome the richness of multiple approaches to the history of philosophy, as well as of various traditions (African, American, Asian, Caribbean, European, Latin American, etc.). HOPS provides a forum for various interpretive methods, including, but not limited to, analytical, deconstructive, feminist, hermeneutic, phenomenological, and pragmatist interpretations of texts and philosophers from antiquity through the 19th Century.
